

Cours collectif : Asma

Error recognition

The shortage of cooking gas in North Korea raised prices : an example of how the law of supply and demand also apply / applies to planned economies.

He wanted always / has always wanted to be a doctor and after doing medicine he now works in a hospital.

His mother explicitly told he / him not to go out the river by himself, but he did not listen.

The more difficult part / The most difficult part of running a business is keeping up-to-date with the clients' needs and desires.

I was so angry that I took the watch broken / broken watch to the jewellers to get my money back.

I haven't never / have never seen anybody who rides a horse so well before.

My friends tell / My friends told me the English exam was quite difficult but I'm not worried.

How long does it take to get to the station on foot / by foot from your house ?

The earlier the young players get the chance to play in international events, the best / the better they will be in the future.